

Issue 003

28th March 2025

A Bright Future for Construction and Kent Electrical Solutions

Kent Electrical Solutions Ltd is thrilled by the government's recent announcement of a major boost to the UK construction industry. With a £600 million investment to train up to 60,000 new skilled construction workers and an additional £100 million allocated to launch 10 new Technical Excellence Colleges, this marks a bold and exciting step forward for the sector.

The commitment to grow and upskill the construction workforce is not only vital for building more homes but will also have a powerful knock-on effect across the commercial sector. As specialists in new build development and commercial electrical services, we welcome the increased demand for infrastructure, office fit-outs, and associated electrical installations that will follow.

Moreover, the £165 million set aside to enhance construction course delivery in existing colleges ensures a stronger pipeline of talent. For us, this means access to a broader, better-trained workforce—crucial in maintaining the highest professional standards our clients expect.

We look forward to collaborating on the next generation of developments, supporting growth across London and the South East, and continuing to deliver reliable, expert service at every stage of the building process.

Project Success: Pioneer Point, Ilford

A fantastic job completed for DMA Group, delivering a major electrical upgrade on time and with great feedback!

On this project, we were tasked with replacing the distribution system across 30 floors—a complex upgrade requiring careful planning and execution.

- 9 Ryefield panels installed
- New busbar trunking fitted
- Scheduled shutdowns managed seamlessly

With everything on track, we're proud to deliver another high-quality project with precision and professionalism.

Employee of the Month: Celebrating Henri's Hard Work!

At Kent Electrical Solutions, we take pride in recognising the dedication and expertise of our team. This month, we're celebrating Henri, our latest Employee of the Month and the well-deserved winner of a £50 Amazon voucher!

Henri has been instrumental in pushing the job forward, maintaining a high standard of work, and demonstrating outstanding teamwork. His commitment to excellence has made a real difference on-site, ensuring efficiency and quality at every stage.

On top of that, Mark Claxton recently passed his SSSTS (Site Supervisor Safety Training Scheme) qualification in just three months—a fantastic achievement that reflects his drive for professional growth.

Subscribe for more updates from Kent Electrical Solutions as we continue to drive innovation and excellence.